Array Networks End of Support (EoS) Announcement for the Array SSL VPN Client on Android Devices

Release Date: December 26, 2016

Overview

Array Networks announces the End of Support (EoS) for the Array SSL VPN client on Android devices effective December 26, 2016.

EoS Schedule

Product	End of Software Feature Availability	End of Sale	End of Technical Support
Array SSL VPN client	December 26, 2016	December 26, 2016	December 26, 2016

Impact

The Array SSL VPN client is a legacy version of the SSL VPN client and supports only the VPN function. Array Networks has released the MotionPro client, which provides not only the VPN function, but also more comprehensive functions and better user experience. Array Networks hereby removes the Array SSL VPN client from Google Play and announces EoS on December 26, 2016. To get better user experience and support, existing Array SSL VPN client users can download the MotionPro client from Google Play and start to use the MotionPro client.

Others

For more information, please contact Array Networks Customer Support.